Monthly Income & Allocation

At the same time economic conditions of the targeted population in terms of income is also miserable, where the average monthly income of a family (average five individuals) is 12,333 rupees ($138). Per-capita daily income in a family is $0.92 which is well below the poverty line defined by World Bank. Out of this monthly income 66.81% of the spending is on food items while just 9% of the budget is allocated for education purposes.

Allocation of Monthly Income

Business Sector & Christian Community

Similarly, the involvement of Christian people in business sector is trifling. Percentage share of Christian businessmen is about 1.15% of the total Christian population in Lahore. Under the light of these facts it is obvious that socio-economic conditions of Christians in Lahore is very dejected.

Christian community lacks qualified people, employment rate is insufficient, dependency ratio is very high, job opportunities for Christians in public sector are less and due to lack of education and skills income level is very low. These upshots about Christian community in Lahore ask for keen interest in improving the socio-economic indicators to uplift the Christian community specifically in Lahore and generally in Pakistan.
